Authorz.Net

Authorz.Net brings the power of the Internet to authors and readers. During the last few years, the publishing industry has undergone an unprecedented consolidation, leaving many "mid-list" writers and first-time authors unable to even get a reading, much less a publisher. Even established writers can find themselves "squeezed out" by the demands of monolithic publishing houses. So how do you get noticed in today's highly competitive publishing field?

Mais l'accès à l'information ne serait rien, si vous ne pouviez pas la personnaliser, l'adapter à vos besoins et ainsi donner à vos données brutes une valeur nouvelle. Lorsque partager votre savoir avec d'autres personnes est essentiel, un accès simultané aux informations vous permet de collaborer dans une équipe, un groupe de travail ou avec des collègues éloignés. Notre mission, rendre l'information accessible. Nos solutions sont basées sur des systèmes de recherche plein-texte, ou sur le stockage et la recherche de "l'image d'un document". De plus, si vous ne pouvez pas investir toutes vos "ressources" à la numérisation de 200.000 pages, nous pouvons nous en charger. Vous nous confiez simplement vos papiers, et nous vous livrons un CD-ROM qui contient le texte et les images de tous vos documents, avec non pas une seule méthode d'accès, mais plusieurs méthodes adaptées à vos différents besoins."

Free-ePress.com

Free-ePress.com: Because you deserve to know what you're paying for. Well, not really. Our books are distributed as HonorWare. That means we have put absolutely no restrictions on them in terms of downloading or copying. In fact, we want you to make as many copies as you like;

send the books to friends, post them on websites, whatever. Why? Are we crazy? Maybe. But we believe that Big Brother encryption is a terrible way to "protect" ebooks from piracy. We think the best way to keep people from stealing books is to make them free (in terms of "free speech", not "free beer"). So here's the catch. You get to download and read our books for free. When you're done, you'll see instructions on how to get back to our website and pay for them. If you don't like the book you downloaded, you owe us nothing; consider it a built-in money-back guarantee. If you do enjoy it, please pay for it so we can continue to provide you with more books you'll enjoy.

Pythia Press

"Pythia Press was established in 1995 as a small publisher with a world-wide outlook. Relying on computer-linked professionals and freelancers, Pythia Press is dedicated to bringing out works that illustrate the extremes of human behavior--war, sex, survival--by writers who cross all national boundaries and exist as universals. Our charter is wide and and we are involved in multi-media projects of an international cast. But Pythia Press does not seek "synergy" which too often has become today's euphemism for collusion. Rather, we remain resolutely independent and focused on bringing imagination and originality to our readers and supporters with, as always, a personal touch."

"A virtual village, home of The Mountaineer Book Shop Online, gathering place for writers, artists and crafters."

Sanctum Press

Electronic Publisher of New Pulp Fiction. "We produce ebooks-books that are distributed electronically. [...] Our niche is pulp fiction, a misunderstood and too often neglected style of prose that takes its name from the cheaply printed story magazines in which it was born. [...] Some of the most respected writers of fantasy and science fiction-among them H.P. Lovecraft, Edgar Rice Burroughs, Ray Bradbury, Isaac Asimov, Robert E. oward, and Arthur C. Clarke-found their voice and their audience in the pulps. The style that these and other authors pioneered was dynamic and highly visual, a perfect complement to their tales of wild adventure and foreboding menace. Our authors borrow these techniques, elaborate on them, and blend them wit contemporary styles to give you a new and quite enjoyable reading experience."

Savanti

"Savanti Inc. is a company for the 90's, using Internet and computer technology. Savanti is working in two related areas: The Global Rating Service is a standard player rating and tournament support service for the Collector Card Game industry. The second area is Savanti Press, which is promoting Science Fiction and Fantasy publishing over the Internet. Since much of the content of the CCG Industry is drawn from SF&F, it was felt that these were natural partners on the Internet."
