Our Mission

On-line publishing, if done professionally and honorably, is set up to give those authors, who haven't been recognized by the big New York/Canadian publishing houses, a chance to be published. But, it also strives to set up networks so the books receive exposure, making it possible to achieve more sales to the general public. Thus, authors and publishers can benefit financially from their work.

Paw Prints was created out of a need for on-line publishers to have a way of printing the manuscripts of their authors without tremendous expense or costly conditions. InstaBook provides us a machine that makes it simple to print out as few as one book at a time or in large numbers if needed to meet the ordering needs of our authors and to do it inexpensively. We will strive to maintain and continuously enhance Paw Prints position as the best total cost solution for Print on Demand printing to the Electronic Book Publishing industry. We are a family company that maintains a philosophy of providing for personal growth and opportunities, and an environment which allows for creativity and innovation. Our name and reputation will be synonymous with the highest standards of honesty, integrity, and mutual respect as perceived by our customers, co-workers, suppliers, and the communities in which we live and work.
